Professional Free-Skier
B.A.S.E. Jumper

Karina Hollekim is a living testament to resilience and unwavering determination. Hailing from Norway, she's not merely a freeskier and BASE jumper – she's a trailblazer. Karina shattered records by becoming the first female to conquer a ski-BASE jump. But her story extends beyond mere conquests of mountain peaks; it's a tale of scaling the summits within ourselves.

In a dramatic twist of fate, Karina confronted a near-fatal accident in 2006, enduring 25 leg fractures that could have easily crushed her resolution. Yet, with a solid spirit, she defied the odds, toeing the line between life and death with sheer grit and grace. Despite the challenges, she emerged stronger, embracing each day with a renewed zest for life.

Karina's journey transcends physical barriers; it's a testament to the indomitable human spirit. Through 20 surgeries and countless hours of rehabilitation, she reclaimed her life with unwavering determination.

Since 2024 Karina is Chief Evangelist in the AI company SeeyouAI delivering GPT services both B2C and B2B.

Karina shares her story about the moments that change our lives forever, about raw willpower and passion. Inspiring us to be targeted in our approach to life, she is living proof of the importance of little changes and how they make a difference in the long run. By raising awareness of our choices she challenges our willingness to change. Karina shows the importance of coming out of your comfort zone to achieve your goals. Karina's incredible journey, her gripping story about struggle and resilience together with her indomitable spirit makes a story to remember.
