

German TV Journalist
ZDF News Presenter

Kay-Sölve Richter is TV presenter, event moderator and speaker. She is the perfect combination of curious and knowledgeable, experienced and "a fresh breeze" on stage.

Whether as an event moderator or speaker, Kay-Sölve Richter confidently masters the fine line between seriousness and glamour, between journalistic competence and humour. And despite her spontaneity, she is always meticulously prepared.

The anchorwoman can draw on a quarter of a century of experience as a radio and television journalist: for years she has presented the "heute" news on ZDF and co-presented "heute-journal". This earned her a nomination for the German Television Award as best presenter of an information programme. Before that, she was on air at WDR, RTL-Aktuell and in various news and business programmes at n-tv. During her career she has made countless live broadcasts, interviews, event moderations and panel discussions.

Kay-Sölve also is a communications trainer: With her own coaching company "Richter & Münzner Medientraining", she has been preparing top executives for their public appearances since 2006.

Kay-Sölve Richter is a true all-rounder - perfect for events that need more than one facet. For example, for a whimsical award ceremony with well-founded interviews. Or a dazzling anniversary celebration with expert panel discussion. Or an industry congress followed by a gala.
