

Minos A. Zombanakis Professor of the International Financial System at Harvard Kennedy School
Vice President and Chief Economist of the World Bank Group (2020-2022)

Carmen M. Reinhart is the Minos A. Zombanakis Professor of the International Financial System at Harvard Kennedy School. She is the Former Senior Vice President and Chief Economist of the World Bank Group. She is ranked among the top economists worldwide and has been listed among Bloomberg Markets Most Influential 50 in Finance, Foreign Policy's Top 100 Global Thinkers, and Thompson Reuters' The World's Most Influential Scientific Minds.

Carmen M. Reinhart was Senior Policy Advisor and Deputy Director at the International Monetary Fund and held positions as Chief Economist and Vice President at the investment bank Bear Stearns in the 1980s. She serves in the Advisory Panel of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and was a member of the Congressional Budget Office Panel of Economic Advisors.

She has written on a variety of topics in macroeconomics and international finance. Her work has helped to inform the understanding of financial crises in both advanced economies and emerging markets. Her best-selling book (with Kenneth S. Rogoff) entitled This Time is Different: Eight Centuries of Financial Folly documents the striking similarities of the recurring booms and busts that have characterized financial history. It has been translated to over 20 languages and won the Paul A. Samuelson Award.

Carmen M. Reinhart has been awarded numerous prizes as for example the King Juan Carlos Prize in Economics in 2018 and NABE's Adam Smith Award.

Topics (Selection):

- Debt and the Global Economy
- Financial Crisis
- Global Capital Flows in times of Crises
- Macroeconomics

Publications (Selection):

- This Time is Different: Eight Centuries of Financial Folly, 2009