

PETER BRANDL

Communication Expert Professional Pilot

Flying is fascinating, surprising and shocking all in one. Peter Brandl's lectures offer pure suspense wrapped in a colossal package of entertainment and value of benefit! He takes his participants onto an exciting flight, which will mark their future way of thinking and acting!

Brandl graduated in Social Pedagogics, is a Sales Manager, Professional Pilot and Flight Instructor. Since 1993 he has advised and trained companies in matters of communication, customer acquisition, negotiation techniques and conflict management. He passionately combines the latest insights from brain research and neurobiology with aviation insights and then transfers this knowledge to daily situations within corporations and work routines.

The German Newspaper ZEIT called Peter Brandl one of the most successful communication professionals. He knows true life, has a catching lecture style, an expressive rhetoric, he creates reachable images and takes his audience on an exciting journey between an airplane cockpit and business challenges. Also he combines impressive cases from aviation and business, creating naturalistic examples for communication situations of all kinds.

Topics (Selection):

- How can one communicate safely during challenging situations and avoid mistakes?
- How can one learn from mistakes and recognize whether or not your team is ready for difficult times ?
- How can one motivate himself during difficult times, set up correct priorities and focus on the essentials?